FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

TUSKEGEE ARMY AIR FIELD, ALA., AUGUST ____ Gradually approaching the stage where they will play a major role in one of the world's greatest offensive organizations, the Air Forces, the Aviation Cadets at the Tuskegee Army Air Field are preparing themselves for future combat with the enemies of the Allied nations. They have at their disposal the most modern stream-lined training program ever placed within reach of any group of individuals since the beginning of history. Through this training, they acquire the techniques that spell 'destruction' for the foe.

The men from Washington, D.C., who recently completed their primary flight training at Moton Field, Tuskegee Institute, Ala., and have been assigned to the Tuskegee Army Air Field where they will begin basic flight training are Aviation Cadets: Lindsay L. Campbell and William W. Stephenson of Washington.

Cadet Campbell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Knox of 520 Columbia Rd., N.W., Washington, D. C. He was employed as a government clerk, prior to entering the Aviation Cadet Corps.

Cadet Stephenson, son of Mr. and Mrs. William W. Stephenson of 843 Eastern Ave., N.E., Washington, D. C., formerly attended Howard University.
